

SHELLS REEF BEIGE

Shells Reef Beige by Coral Classics

This beautiful one of a kind shell stone is swirled with large and small abalone shells. It is uniform in color and is consistent from piece to piece. Every application is exclusive to itself and brings the beauty of million-year-old fossils into the modern-day home or business.

Shells Reef Beige is a very dense material, making it an ideal choice for interior or exterior applications. Being a true shell stone, it is cool to the touch regardless of the sun exposure it endures.

▶ Cut into tiles, pavers, copings & slabs it is available in a Honed & Filled or Brushed/Antiqued finish. The density of this product and the few if any holes in it, allows it to stay clean and not attract mold or mildew in exterior applications. This also makes the material very easy to maintain once installed and sealed.
